

SUICIDE OF KELLY IS BROUGHT INTO BEVARD MURDER TRIAL

Defense Offers Testimony to Show Trail of Bloodhounds After Wertz Murder

Every Seat Taken When Court Resumed Consideration of Case Monday Morning Many Women Being Present ---End of Trial Not Yet in Sight.

As usual, when Bailiff Louis Legge on Monday morning announced that "this Honorable Court of Common Pleas is now in session," every seat in the room was occupied. Judge Seward disposed of some civil business and then the Bevard murder trial was resumed. The interest in this trial seems to increase each day as the trial proceeds and the number of women in the court room does not diminish. Some of the latter sit on the floor inside the bar rail while a number of others will stand in the aisles and entrances during the sessions of court.

Judge Seward on Monday morning ruled that witnesses could be re-called as the case proceeded, in order to expedite the trial.

There is no opinion expressed by counsel for either State or defense as to when the trial may close.

The only thing out of the usual at the Monday morning session, was the introduction of testimony concerning the whereabouts of Martin Kelley, who committed suicide by cutting his throat in the county jail shortly after Bevard was arrested. Kelley had been arrested near St. Louisville in a nude condition and bloody clothing said to have belonged to him was found.

The defense also introduced testimony showing that the bloodhounds on the trail the night after the murder quit on the Mt. Vernon road and never did trace Levi Bevard.

The prosecution offered no objection to this, provided it was not gone into any further than to show this fact; that is, to show the entire course of the dogs.

MONDAY MORNING.

John Kiefer was the first witness called on Monday morning by the defense in the Levi Bevard murder case.

Examined by P. B. Smythe, the witness testified as follows: "I went to the Wertz home the morning of the murder; saw Levi and his wife in a buggy; saw Eva around the house and at the buggy; she was talking to them; there were two girls with her; I was about three feet from the buggy; did not hear Levi say to her, 'if you tell that it was a gal, I'll kill you the first chance I get.'"

Cross-examined by Mr. Fitzgibbon: "While I was at what Levi said, 'I heard Levi say to her, 'if you tell that it was a gal, I'll kill you the first chance I get.'"

Re-direct by Mr. P. B. Smythe: "After Rosa fainted Levi was with her all the time."

GRANT SUDBURY.

Mr. Sudbury was examined by Mr. P. B. Smythe: "I live in McKean township about a mile north of the Wertz home; have lived there about 17 years; drove past Mrs. Wertz's home the night of the murder, probably about 8:30; when I got home I set the clock at 9:10; saw no light in the Wertz home that night when I passed."

Cross-examined by Mr. T. R. Fulton. "I was in Newark that day; don't remember what time I left Newark, the fact of the Wertz house being dark called my attention to it; was not a dark night; could have recognized any person on the road; don't remember how fast I was driving that night."

MRS. ALICE JONES.

Mrs. Alice Jones, formerly Miss Alice Foster, was examined by Mr. B. G. Smythe: "I now live in Columbus; I used to live in McKean township, about one-half a mile from Mrs. Wertz; know Eva Wertz; am her second cousin; her reputation for truth is not good; did not talk with her after the murder."

Cross-examined by Mr. Fitzgibbon: "Am related to both the Wertz and the Bevards."

KATE HANKINSON.

Kate Hankinson was examined by Mr. P. B. Smythe: "I was at the Wertz home about noon of the day of the killing; was with Eury Hoover, Eva and Florence Wertz; saw Levi and Rosa Bevard in front of the house; went to the buggy with Eva and Florence and Eury Hoover; Eva told of the murder; we all left the buggy together; Levi did not say to Eva that he would kill her; saw Eva talking to some men behind an automobile."

Cross-examined by Mr. Fitzgibbon: "I saw Eva talking with Rosa and Levi; was not at the buggy when Rosa fainted; Eury and I went after a drink of water and heard then that Rosa had fainted."

Re-direct by Mr. Smythe: "Think we were separated from Eva about half an hour when we went to get a drink; don't know of more than one conversation that Eva had with Levi."

By Mr. Fitzgibbon: "Were you near the buggy when Rosa fainted?"

"No, sir."

MRS. AMANDA BRUBAKER.

Mrs. Brubaker was questioned by Mr. Phil Smythe: "I live in Newark; did live six miles north of Newark; know Wertz family; met Eva the morning after the murder; never knew of her until then; from what I have heard since then Eva's reputation is not good for truth; was standing in the road with Mrs. Charles Hoover; heard Eva say that she did not know who killed Mrs. Wertz, whether he was white or black."

Cross-examined by Mr. T. B. Fulton: "My uncle lives about a mile from the Wertz home; I was visiting there at the time Mrs. Wertz died; had been there about a week; visited there frequently; have heard people talk about Eva Wertz since the killing; don't remember ever hearing of Eva Wertz before; don't remember what time I heard the talk that Eva had with Mrs. Hoover."

Re-direct by Mr. P. B. Smythe: "Heard people that day talk about Eva's bad reputation for truth and veracity."

Re-cross-examination by Mr. Fulton: "Don't remember any particular person saving anything; there was considerable talk."

EURY HOOVER (Recalled.)

Examined by Mr. Phil Smythe: "When I was at the buggy with Eva, and Kate Hankinson, did not see Levi make any threats; Eva began talking to Rosa."

Cross-examined by Mr. Fitzgibbon.

"Did not hear Levi say anything to Eva; was not at the buggy when Rosa fainted."

ARTHUR POWELL (Recalled.)

By Mr. Phil Smythe: "Know Eva Wertz; reputation for truth and veracity, it is not good."

Cross-examined by Mr. Fitzgibbon: "I went on Levi Bevard's bond; don't remember any particular person's talk of Eva's reputation, as there have been too many; I can't remember all."

Re-direct by Mr. Phil Smythe: "Was not afraid to sign Levi's bond; am not a rich man either."

ALEXANDER BEVARD.

By Mr. B. G. Smythe: "I am a first cousin to Levi Bevard and Jackson Wertz, Eva's father, is my first cousin; lived about half a mile from Mrs. Frances Wertz, when she was killed; before this I rented a corn field from her, west of the house; went there nearly every day; saw her the evening before she was killed; she was with Eva; there was a strange man staying at Wesley Wright's; have heard since his name was Boyer; don't know where he came from; Mrs. Wertz told me that Eva told her that she would see Boyer when she took the cows up the road; I told her I didn't think much of Boyer; saw him last on Decoration Day; don't think he has been in the neighborhood since; he was at Wesley Wright's about two weeks; Mrs. Wertz used wood for fuel; think her husband left home about April 1; don't know who hauled and chopped the wood after he left; often saw an old ax in the woodpile; Eva's reputation for truth is not good; was at the home the day after the murder; helped to clean up the mess in the kitchen and stairway with Mrs. Mossman; don't think there had been any cleaning up before this; saw no (Continued on page 6, 5th col.)

BLAMES HERSELF FOR ACCIDENTAL DEATH OF HER ADMIRER

New York, June 18.—Although it was caused by a really remarkable accident, Miss Murry of Summit, N. J., is blaming herself for the death of her admirer, James Condren. Three weeks ago last night Condren called to see the young woman. She was in her room on the second floor dressing in the expectation of receiving the call.

She tripped in her haste on the stairs and tumbled head over heels, falling upon the expectant Condren. Miss Murry weighs 200 pounds.

Condren was found to be unconscious, when Miss Murry, hardly injured by her misadventure, had been assisted to her feet.

The young man's neck was broken. He died yesterday. Miss Murry is in a state of inconsolable grief. It is vain now to tell her that she is not to blame for her admirer's mischance, end.

GRANVILLE JAP WEDS YOUNG GIRL

But Watanabe's Bride Who Is Only Fifteen Can't be Located

HAD TWO JAPANESE SUITORS

LOSER IS HEARTBROKEN OVER TURN OF AFFAIRS

Husband Refused to Tell Where She Is—"Toke" Attended College at Denison

Granville, O., June 18.—The news of the marriage of Toke Watanabe, the Japanese student, who formerly attended Denison University, and Miss Margaret Clayton, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Webb Clayton, a well known actor of Columbus, created a great sensation here Sunday. Watanabe's father was formerly the sanitary engineer of the island of Formosa, but is now on the retired list, and the members of his family are all of the upper class. Some five or six years ago Mark Winchester (who completed a full course of seven years in the phenomenal time of three years in the United States Forestry Commission, and traveled over a considerable portion of the world, investigating the forestry conditions. While in Japan Mr. Winchester formed the acquaintance of the Watanabe family, and finally induced Toke to take a course of engineering in Denison University.

A little over three years ago Mr. Watanabe entered Denison University, and when he left Granville some months ago to take a position as mechanical engineer with the Kilbourne & Jacobs plant, Columbus, he was a member of the Junior class. Previous to his entering Denison he had graduated from two academies in Japan and also one military academy, similar to our West Point academy. During the war with Japan and Russia, while he was still at Denison, had received a call, he would have served in the Japanese army with the rank of captain in the infantry. During his stay at Denison he developed wonderful mental ability, and was a star in mathematics, and was well up in all his other studies. He was a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity of Granville, and is probably the only Japanese Sig in the United States.

Having been admitted to fraternity under a special dispensation. He made admirable progress in his studies until a short time before he left school, when he formed the acquaintance of a number of young women, and devoted considerable of his time to sending them love letters, written by fellow students.

Columbus, Ohio, June 18.—For the purpose of determining whether or not his American sweetheart, a really jilted him, Lewis Ogata, a wealthy Japanese merchant, whose home is in a villa about three hundred miles northeast of Tokio, Japan, was a visitor at the Tokio court, Saturday afternoon, looking after the matrimonial affairs of Miss Margaret Clayton, the 15-year-old daughter of Webb Clayton, a well-known actor, and Toke Watanabe a fellow countryman, who attended college at Granville.

According to the tip he fell in love with the daughter of the actor about a year ago when he was attending school at the Ohio State University. At the same time his fellow countryman, Watanabe, was very much "smitten" with the young girl, but his suit was not encouraged by the girl's parents.

Several weeks ago, Ogata was forced to leave Columbus for Chicago and New York to take up the estate of his father. He was, however, taking advantage of his absence, secured a marriage license in the probate court by swearing that he was 19 years of age, and was married by the Rev. James Poindexter.

Just a day prior to the marriage, however, Ogata received a telegram from his mother asking him to "come back and marry" the daughter. He arrived Friday. Since his arrival he stated Saturday afternoon, he had heard all sorts of rumors about his sweetheart, but was loath to believe them. He was unable to hear the truth from her lips.

NEW YORK PORCH MURDER MYSTERY BAFFLING POLICE AND DETECTIVES

Reproduction of photograph found on Mrs. Kinnaman's bureau in the Stenton Residence.

New York, June 18.—The detectives who have been attempting to solve the mystery surrounding the murder of Mrs. Alice Kinnaman on the porch of the Stenton mansion in the Bronx for the past ten days, today admit that they are as far from a trace of the murderer as they were at the start. A long list of suspects has been wiped out, the investigation having eliminated one after another.

Burton Gibson, attorney for Mrs. Louise Stenton, mother of the murdered woman, who has given the police all the information at his disposal, but who has not communicated any of his suspicions to them, is still confident that the murderer will be discovered. He declined today to say on what ground he based his confidence.

and admitted that he has no real clue. Lawyer Gibson will apply today for letters of administration on Mrs. Kinnaman's estate jointly with Guy Frisbie, who is attorney for Richard Kinnaman, husband of Mrs. Kinnaman, from whom she had lived apart for so many years. They will ask that the letters be given to a trust company.

An old walnut dresser in the mansion searched by detectives disclosed bank books showing deposits of $10,000 in the name of Mrs. Stenton or of her daughter as trustee.

Their finding brings the total deposits discovered in the names of the women to $16,000 for Mrs. Stenton, and $10,000 for Mrs. Kinnaman. The coroner would not be surprised if more bank books are found.

GENERAL MANAGER FITZGERALD'S TRAIN IN COLLISION, SEVERAL BADLY HURT SAYS DISPATCH FROM WHEELING, W. VA.

Wheeling, June 18.—A train dispatcher's mistake caused a head-on collision between General Manager Fitzgerald's special train and a Baltimore and Ohio freight engine south of Bridgeport this morning. Engineer James Scott of Benwood, was scalded, and will die. Fireman Davidson of Benwood, was internally injured, Brakeman Sharling's head was crushed and he may die; Edward Hays of Bridgeport, the freight engineer was seriously cut. Conductor Pat McKearn of Bridgeport, was hurt internally.

and James Nally, brakeman, who was bruised, will recover.

When the foregoing press telegram was received by the Advocate Monday afternoon, it was sent to the B and O. offices in this city. The dispatchers had heard nothing of the accident and at once inquired of Wheeling for details. Wheeling replied that nothing was known there of a wreck. The local dispatchers are inclined to believe that it was not Mr. Fitzgerald's train that was wrecked, as they believe that Mr. Fitzgerald was not in the vicinity of Wheeling Monday.

as she could not be found by her parents or by the police who had been notified by the girl's mother. Her husband refuses to say where she is.

To quiet his own emotions and to learn whether or not the girl had really jilted him Ogata in company with an interpreter, called at the probate court Saturday afternoon to learn the truth. He was free to express his emotions, but even if the license record was found, the successful Japanese suitor is a mechanical engineer at the Kilbourne-Jacobs company.

She twisted and bent and went through all kinds of contortions in vain efforts to fasten that thirteenth button. Suddenly there was a snap, and her arm felt helpless by her side. ## SUBMARINE BELL TEST

Warnings In Fog and Storm
Sent From Ocean Depths.

SIGNALS WERE HEARD MILES AWAY

Through the Telephone's Receiver
the Throb of an Unseen Steamship's
Screw Could Be Detected—Device
That Enables Liners to Locate
Lightships at a Distance.

To put the receiver of a telephone to your ear and hear the sibilant note of a warning bell come out of the sea; by the same means to hear the throb of a steamship's screw when the steamship cannot be seen and by these sounds to drive a vessel through fog or darkness, avoiding collisions and reefs, acknowledging signals and making port as a skipper would in broad daylight, savors of the opening chapter of a novel by Jules Verne. Nevertheless these things can now be done, and they are made possible by the submarine telephone.

The signal is the invention of Professor Elisba Gray of Chicago and Arthur J. Mundy. It is controlled by the Submarine Signal company. Through the courtesy of the latter a representative of the New York Times witnessed a demonstration of submarine signaling on a recent afternoon at Sandy Hook.

A specially chartered tug took the party that had been invited to see the demonstration from Pier 6 to the Sandy Hook lightship, which was riding easily on an oily swell and the crew were idling on deck playing cards and checkers. The only sound that broke the stillness of the ocean was the melancholy tolling of a bell. One tried to trace the sound in vain. The big bell on deck was motionless. One of the men was asked where the sound came from. He pointed down into the sea.

"Submarine," said he.

"Pong! Pong!" was the sound that came from the depths of the ocean. The captain of the lightship explained that this was the bell from which steamships fitted with the submarine telephone took their bearings. It was hung from the keel of the lightship, he said, and ships miles away, be the weather thick or clear, could hear it by telephone and know just where they were.

The telephone was shown later, but the bell was the first thing to be explained. Deep down in the sea it is operated by compressed air. A wheel turning in the engine room of the lightship marked off five seconds of silence, then a notch released enough compressed air to drive the tongue of the submarine bell. The ghostly note came out of the sea twice with an interval of a second and a half, then there was a lapse of five seconds. Again the double note sounded. Then there was a lapse of three seconds. The continued repetition of the bell notes with the alternate lapses of five and three seconds constituted a signal which to mariners spelled in the submarine signal code "Sandy Hook Light."

Although many ships are fitted with the telephone which receives the warning note of the submarine bell, the vessel used in the demonstration was a tug, in the wheelhouse of which there hung what looked like an ordinary telephone. The party returned to the tug to see the second and most important part of the invention. On the way from the lightship to the tug the carrying power of water was demonstrated by the fact that while the air did not carry the sound of the deep sea bell the melancholy notes came through the oars and the woodwork of the row-boat.

On board the tug full speed was ordered. The little craft traveled over a mile to the west of the lightship. When at last it came to a full stop absolute silence prevailed except for the voices of the passengers. The bell notes were lost, and the lightship itself was a little thing in the distance. Acting upon the suggestion of an official representing the signal company, the members of the party took turns at putting the telephone receiver to their ears. As clearly, though not so loudly as before, the sibilant bell pealed out of the sea. The throb of the steamship's screw was also heard long before the vessel came in sight of the tug.

The submarine telephone is exactly like any other telephone so far as its general theory is concerned. It begins in the wheel house and ends in the bilges. Here, closely pressed against the shell of the vessel, is a transmitter case full of water, and into it is inserted a microphone. This microphone is a metal drum. The plates of the vessel form the diaphragm. The water transmits the sound to this. The importance of being able to trace a sound in darkness or fog has always been appreciated by mariners. Many a good ship has gone to pieces through the inability of the master to do it. The submarine signal settles this difficulty.

One each side of a vessel having the telephone aboard there is a receiver. A switch closes the port microphone and leaves the starboard open, as a man might listen with one ear shut and the other on the alert. Both receivers are opened and shut in turn until it is made clear from which side the sound comes the loudest. This part of the invention, the company hopes, will be much improved as time goes on, so that mariners will be able to find a sound with perfect accuracy. As it is, a vessel with the submarine signal apparatus need not approach within a mile of a lightship, a reef or land where the bell gives out its warning without being aware of it.

In March in a blinding snowstorm Captain Turner of the steamship Ivernia heard the Sandy Hook lightship's submarine bell through the telephone at a distance of ten miles.

Clearing House Principle to Be Tried In London.

PLAN FOR IMPROVING THE SERVICE

Bills of Information Gathered by American Representatives at European Capitals to Be Assembled and Classified at British Capital—Secretary Root's Scheme to Save Time and Cable Tolls.

"Shirt sleeves diplomacy" is about to spring another open and above board combination on the diplomatic chess board; an example of the application of business principles to a calling which in bygone years was characterized by dark lantern methods, duplicity and intrigue, says the New York Post's Washington correspondent. It is nothing less than an American diplomatic clearing house in London, under the supervision of the American ambassador to Great Britain. There it is proposed to assemble the important bits of information gathered by all the diplomatic and consular officials maintained in Europe by the United States. This knowledge will be classified and filed away, to be kept secret, unless and until some specified disposition of it is authorized by the secretary of state. It will be a duplication of so much of the department's records as relates to Europe, and the purpose of having it assembled at the most important American diplomatic post abroad is to facilitate diplomatic action and save the expense of cable tolls on diffusing information sent to Washington from European courts and which the department wishes to place in the hands of its representatives at the other great capitals abroad.

This important departure in state department usage is to be made effective by a paragraph in the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill, which is now before the senate for action, as follows:

Clerks at the Embassy at London.—For two clerks at the embassy to Great Britain, one at the rate of $1,200 per annum and one at the rate of $1,200 per annum.

Adoption of such a plan will have the effect of making Ambassador Reid a sort of vice secretary of state. Even now his post is the most important of all the positions in the service. Other ambassadors hold the same rank, but with Mr. Reid the supervising head of an official bureau which will assimilate and dispense to all other ambassadors secret information which they will individually furnish to him his position will assume an added measure of responsibility.

Advocacy of a clearing house plan is but a development of Mr. Root's painstaking and gradual mastery of every detail of state department work. Many officials who enter the government service are satisfied to fall directly into line with the usage of the department and follow as closely as may be in the footsteps of their predecessors. Upon such basis is "red tape" founded—the desire to do what has always been done and to do nothing else for fear of setting a precedent. Mr. Root is not afflicted with any such fear. If he sees something which may be improved or simplified he doesn't hesitate to authorize the change. His cold, businesslike manner is rather liked by legislators at the capitol, who are sick and tired of the importunities of subordinate officials. They do not withhold admiration from a man who knows what he wants and goes after it as if he intended to get it, so the veterans have a large measure of confidence in Mr. Root's recommendations, and it is altogether likely they will think as he does about the clearing house plan and keep it in the bill.

An important provision which is not likely to stay in, however, is the one requiring that all necessary clerks at American embassies and legations shall be citizens of the United States. In its essence the provision is highly desirable and not subject to adverse comment. Men who have held high positions in the American diplomatic service agree that it is not to this country's interests to have foreigners sharing its diplomatic secrets, few as they are, and having access to the archives of our missions abroad. But the department officials know that such a rigid exclusion policy cannot be made effective within three weeks or, in other words, at the beginning of the next fiscal year, July 1, when all appropriation bills become effective. Granting that such a policy should be adopted, it is imperative that its application for a time at least shall be left to the secretary of state's discretion.

Doubtless there are many instances to support this view, but only one is needed to illustrate the situation. There is attached to the American legation in Switzerland a native of that country who has spent practically his entire adult life as a clerk in a confidential capacity. Diplomats who have held the post at Bern have testified to the unchanging fidelity, ability and interest of this Swiss member of the legation staff. He has never, however, become a citizen of the United States, and if he should for any sentimental reason refuse to swear away his birthright he would have to terminate his many years' service to the American government on July 1.

Of all the great supply bills of each session, the diplomatic and consular bill is perhaps the most attractive to the average legislator. It consists mainly of authorizations for appointments to the foreign service of the United States and is usually free of dry routine legislation, such as is inseparable from most appropriation bills. Then there is a certain later attaching to the mere word "diplomacy" with its opportunities for patriotic service in design lands.

PRESS COMMENT ON NOMINATION

The Democrats of the 17th Ohio Congressional district have nominated the Hon. William A. Ashbrook of Licking county, as their candidate for Congress, after a couple of days of balloting. * * * The editor has a personal acquaintance with Mr. Ashbrook and knows him to be a sterling Democrat, a thoroughly up right gentleman and man of no mean ability. We congratulate the Democracy of that district for making such a wise selection, and say this without any disparagement to other candidates, who are also our personal friends.—Plebe County Democrat.

The nomination of Hon. William A. Ashbrook for Congress meets with the hearty approval of the Democracy of the entire 17th district. Without disparagement to the other candidates before the convention, we believe the nomination was the strongest one that could have been made at this time. Mr. Ashbrook is a man of magnetic personality—a vote getter—man, whose public and private life is above reproach, and whose record in the last general assembly of Ohio is such as to inspire confidence in the minds of the people in his sober good sense and sound judgment. Safe and sane on all public questions, with the interests of the people always at heart, he is just the man to whom to trust the interests of the people in the lower branch of congress, and will carry the 17th district with a whirl in November.—Coschocton Democratic Review.

Wm. A. Ashbrook, who received the Democratic nomination for Congress in this district, is the editor of a country paper at Johnstown, Licking county, and is also cashier of a bank. He has held the office of president and treasurer of the Buckeye Press Association of which the editor of the Crescent is vice president, and is also secretary of the National Editorial Association. We have known him for many years and he is a good clever gentleman.—Orville Crescent.

Two members of the Buckeye Press Association were nominated last week for representatives of the national Congress. Jay Ford Laning was nominated at Mansfield by the Republican on the 13th ballot to succeed Mr. Webster of the 14th district. * * * The other Buckeye to receive official recognition for a like high honor is the Hon. William A. Ashbrook, publisher of the Johnstown Independent Secretary of the National Editorial Association, treasurer of the Buckeye Press Association, a past president of the association, and at present a member of the General Assembly. He is a Democrat, but so popular has he always been with the people that he had no trouble in breaking heavily into the Republican ranks at the general elections. He is able, popular, progressive, a friend as true as steel, and when elected, as he surely will be, will make one of the most energetic workers of Congress. The Leader extends congratulations.—Pomeroy Leader.

PATCHING UP MEAT MEASURE

House Committee on Agriculture Goes Over Objectionable Features.

CANNON AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Proposition Offered Giving Secretary of Agriculture Final Control of the Question as to the Fitness of Slaughtered Animals For Food—Other Change Suggested.

Washington, June 18.—Speaker Cannon spent some time at the White House with President Roosevelt, conferring on legislative matters. The speaker said regarding the adjournment program that he expects congress will close up business and get away from Washington by July 1. Regarding the meat inspection legislation, Mr. Cannon reiterated his opinion that safe and sane legislation would be enacted and that, notwithstanding differences on the matter of judicial review, everybody's constitutional rights will be protected. Members of the house committee on agriculture, including Representative Adams of Wisconsin, devoted some time to discussion of various features of the amendments proposed by the house committee to which the president has made objection.

At a meeting of the committee on agriculture the meat inspection amendment was considered. A suggested amendment which Mr. Adams says emanated from the department of agriculture officials, and which it is said is favorably considered by the president, has been brought forward to eliminate the objections set out by the president to the court review proposed by the amendment. This new proposition is designed to give the secretary of agriculture the final control of the situation so far as the question of the fitness of the slaughtered animals for human food is concerned, by the insertion of the following clause in the paragraph in the amendment relating to the inspection and condemnation of the post-mortem examination of such animals: "Which in the judgment of the secretary of agriculture are unsound, unhealthful, unwholesome and unfit for human food." This clause is suggested to take the place of the words "found to be unsound, unhealthful," etc.

The proposed amendment is expected to meet with opposition from the packing interests, who object to delegating such final authority to the department officials. Mr. Adams expressed the opinion that the committee on agriculture will recede from its position, waiving the appointment of inspectors under the civil service commission. This waiver was inserted in the amendment because, he says, the committee was under the erroneous impression that the department had not a sufficient list of persons available for that position.

President Roosevelt added another chapter to the literature of the meat inspection controversy, the chief magistrate replying to the letter of Chairman Wadsworth of the house committee on agriculture. He says: "I wish promptly to acknowledge the one portion of your letter in which you are in the main right. I was in error in the statement, which I accepted from Senator Beveridge, that there was no provision for making the plants accessible at all hours to the inspectors. The provision was put in another place. But it is not as good as the original provision. The court provision is the one to which I most object. I wish to repeat that if deliberately designed to prevent the remedying of the evils complained of, this is the exact provision which the friends of the packers and the packers themselves would have provided. I am happy to tell you that I have seen a member of your committee, Mr. Adams, and I went over with him together with Mr. McCabe and Mr. Reynolds, the various points in which the bill as you have reported it fails to accomplish our purpose, and make the specific recommendation necessary in each case to remedy the failure; and in each case Mr. Adams stated that he personally would accept the alterations we proposed."

Cody, Wyo., June 18.—Five lumbermen were drowned in the Shoshone river, near Wapiti, while attempting to cross in a boat. Six of the party were rescued with difficulty.

—Apple Rosen.—
One of the curiosities shown in Salina, Kan., is an apple tree bearing roses in full bloom, says the Topeka Capital. Buds from a white rosebush were grafted on the tree some time ago, and this year the roses made their appearance. They are white with a light brown streak running through them, and the flower is perfect in form. The leaves on the branches in bloom resemble to some extent the leaves of the apple tree and also those of the rosebush, but there is not a leaf which is a perfect form of either.

UPHEAVAL IN RUSSIA

Imminence of an Armed Uprising the One Topic of Conversation.

UNREST THROUGHOUT EMPIRE

Mutiny in the Army, Agrarian Disorders, Anti-Jewish Demonstrations and Industrial Strikes—Revolutionists Hold Public Meetings Daily. Order Restored at Bialystok.

St. Petersburg, June 18.—The situation throughout Russian empire is hourly growing more disquieting, and the country seems to be on the verge of another great upheaval. In St. Petersburg and Moscow the populace is greatly excited and nothing is talked of except a general political strike which would bring the government to its knees. The proletariat leaders, who have been preparing for months for a blow, believe the moment has come to strike. The agrarian troubles now are sufficiently extended and disorders in the army are a fact. The government has openly refused to accede to the demands of parliament and a rupture is imminent there.

Incipient strikes in St. Petersburg and Moscow, with which the movement was started, while based ostensibly on economic grounds, really are purely political. The committee of the unemployed is only a revolutionary organization, like last fall's committee of workmen in disguise. The bakers of St. Petersburg and adjoining towns struck, and only the black bread eaten by the poor was sold. The streets were filled with crowds of workmen.

A monster meeting of 15,000 Social Democrats and workmen held at Terioki, Finland, was addressed by several members of the "group of toil" of parliament, and every revolutionary utterance was frantically applauded. The imminence of an armed uprising is the one subject of conversation in the hotels, cafes and public gardens. In spite of their prohibition by the police, meetings are held daily in the industrial centers. At all of these revolution is glorified. The prefect at Moscow ordered the boulevards to be occupied by troops in order to prevent revolutionary processions. The governor at Kaluga issued strict orders to the prefect to prevent with all the means in his power anticipated Jewish massacres. A telegram from Idrade, in the province of Erivan, says that the province of Erivan says that the warfare between the Tartars and Armenians is spreading with increasing violence. Troops and Cossacks have been sent from Tiflis.

The affair at Bialystok apparently has burned itself out. No further bloodshed is reported and no more is expected, even by the radicals, who are satisfied that the authorities are now in control and will do everything possible to prevent a renewal of the excesses. This confidence is based on the action of the governor of Grodno, who is hated and distrusted by the bureaucrats, and who after investigating the situation at Bialystok took the unprecedented step, in order to prevent a spread of the massacres, of telegraphing the authorities of all towns within the Jewish pale denying the alleged official reports that the disorders were due to the wanton throwing of bombs at a Christian procession by Jewish revolutionists. This measure, aided by the Catholic clergy, who throughout Russian Poland addressed their congregations imploring them not to believe reports spread broadcast for the purpose of stirring up bloody excesses, was efficacious in calming the agitated spirits among the Christian population. The Catholics of Warsaw canceled a great religious procession which was to have been held here in order to avoid the chance of a conflict.

The exact number of victims at Bialystok is unknown, but it is estimated that 100 persons have been killed. Two hundred persons are lying wounded in two hospitals of the city. Martial law has been proclaimed and troops are arriving constantly.

Work of Terrorists.
Warsaw, June 18.—A band of terrorists held up a mail wagon, killed the driver and his horses and two soldiers, and plundered the mails and escaped. Five terrorists shot and killed a police officer and his wife while they were walking in the street and escaped. The Jews of Warsaw are uneasy, but at present there is no indication of an anti-Jewish outbreak.

Its members will be people who were born in Pike county, Mo. There are about 200 of them in Kansas City. There is a similar club in St. Louis, with 300 members.

Celebrate the Anniversary of Their Party's Birth.

Philadelphia, June 18.—In the same assembly room in Musical Fund hall where on June 17, 1856, the Republican party opened its first national convention, which named Fremont and Dayton as its presidential ticket, there gathered hundreds of Republicans from different sections of the country to commemorate the event. It was the opening meeting of the four days' celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Republican party under the auspices of the National Republican league. The old hall, which has changed little since the first convention within its walls, was crowded with enthusiastic Republicans, who cheered every time the name of any of the Republican presidents was mentioned. Among those who participated in the exercises were 152 men who had voted for Fremont for president. Governor Pennypacker made the address of the day.

Canyon County Jail at Caldwell, Id.
WHERE IDAHO'S ALLEGED BOMB THROWERS ARE CONFINED.

London, June 18.—A dinner was given at the Hotel Cecil in honor of Ellen Terry. The 290 guests included persons prominent in the theatrical world. Winston Churchill, during the course of a brilliant eulogy of Miss Terry's genius, said he considered it a great loss that Great Britain had no national theater. Miss Terry replied to Mr. Churchill's remarks and to other speeches of homage, and after thanking all persons concerned in the testimonial to her labors in Europe and America, said she believed the overwhelming testimony of affection and homage she had received was due greatly to the intention of the public to honor Sir Henry Irving and herself together.

FIRES.
Valuable Property Destroyed at St. Paul and St. Louis.

St. Louis, June 18.—Two fires did damage estimated at $105,000 by completely gutting a five-story office building and burning a large livery and undertaking establishment. Fifty horses were incinerated in the latter. The office building was occupied by the Philip Carey Manufacturing company, the local offices of the Charles Fish Mattress company of Chicago and the Grand Springs Water company. The combined loss, together with damage to the building, is estimated at $55,000. Among the horses burned in the Barker's livery stable fire were several blooded animals with local reputations as trotters.

St. Paul, Minn., June 18.—Fire which started in the six-story Ryan annex building, corner of Seventh and Robert streets, did damage estimated at half a million dollars. About 20 firemen were taken to the hospital, overcome by heat or injured in an explosion which occurred during the progress of the fire. The Ryan hotel, which is separated from the annex by an alley, was somewhat damaged by smoke. The Palace clothing house, which occupied the lower floors of the building, was the heaviest loser.

FOREIGNERS SHUT OUT

Japanese Administration In Manchuria Creates Dissatisfaction.

ISLANDERS GAIN ADVANTAGE

American and European Merchants, Bankers and Shipping Firms Protesting Against Present Conditions. Circulation of War Notes Found to Be a Serious Handicap.

Peking, June 18.—American and European merchants, bankers and shippers are protesting against the Japanese government's administration in Manchuria. The Japanese occupation under the Portsmouth treaty will continue until next April, and in the meantime foreign commerce is almost blocked, the Japanese merchants gaining advantages which make it increasingly difficult to compete with them. Foreign goods now enter Manchuria through Port Newchwang, where the regular Chinese customs duties are levied, while the Japanese import through Dainy and Antung without duty. Mukden and Antung are nominally opened to foreign trade, but foreigners are not permitted to go inland without Japanese passes, while many Japanese merchants, miners and promoters are allowed to travel the country free.

Antung and Mukden at present are practically worthless bases for foreign trade because of the difficulty in distributing goods from these points. The foreign merchants are further handicapped by the circulation of war notes to an amount estimated at between 50,000,000 and 75,000,000 yen, which can be used only in Japanese trade.

Consul General Sammons visited Mukden and Antung to arrange with the Chinese the details of the opening of these points to foreign trade under the American treaty of 1903. It is believed the Chinese are stubbornly trying to insist on regulations similar to those whereby Tsing Tau and Shanghai were recently opened.

Lancaster-New, Castle--No game, rain.

The Newark ball tossers were severely jolted Saturday afternoon when Charlie Crow's rejuvenated bunch received a goodly dose of the pep and took a big brace in the ninth inning after Newark had them shut out without a run and with but three hits. In that ninth frame the batting rally came after two men were gone. A single, a triple, a single and a double did the business and put several hundred Newark fans on the anxious seat for a short ten minutes.

Newark scored easily in the first four frames. Only one man in each of these three innings was shoved across the pan, but that was enough to win the game, at least it looked that way for the Medicine Men were considerably puzzled by Laddy Linke's delivery.

Danny Davis was the first man to count. He came up in the first frame and picked out a good one from the assortment handed out by Pitcher Hulla, late of Indianapolis. Wratten's bunt was thrown wildly to second; Danny and Wrats were both safe. He scored easily on Snyder's bingle. Drake hit in hard luck and played Wratten into a single when the squeeze play was attempted.

One of Newark's new men whose arrival in the city was mentioned exclusively in this paper, figured in the next run and he won a home here by his excellent showing in the Saturday affair. Haval was the man. He landed on that ball in the second and a clean two sacker was the result. A sacrifice and a fielder's choice was the plays to count the man. Newark skipped the third inning and scored in the fourth. It was Ducky Drake who got the long single and pilfered that second sack unmolested. Winters lifted a long single to right-center, and Ducky came scampering home with our third run.

Not until the sixth did Sharon connect for a safe one. It was Glassburner who got the first bingle. He stole second and Hulla fanned out. Ferguson got a nice one to short, but Danny threw to Wratten and caught Glassburner. In the seventh with two down, Clever got a single, but died on first when Winters caught a high foul off Sellers' stick. In the eighth, it looked like a score for the S. S. bunch when Glassburner got his second single. He was forced to second when Linke passed Hulla. Ferguson hit a line drive into Haval's mitt and Hulla was thrown out at first completing a neat double.

Then came that awful ninth. Sharon opened the inning with Kerr at bat. The outfielder merely hit into the air and allowed Schlatter to take care of it. The next man, Hillery, hit a fly to Haval and was out. Ulrich was the next man and after two strikes had been called, Linke very foolishly put one over the pan. Ulrich lifted it over Haval's head for a single. Clever met a nice one right on the schnitz and it went sailing over Drake's head, who was playing back fifteen feet beyond his accustomed position. The bingle was good for three sacks and Ulrich scored, while Clever stood on third. Sellers' single scored Clever, and Glassburner's third hit, a double, scored Sellers, and tied the game up, which the Newark bugs were absolutely certain was a shut out. In fact the scorers had come down from the press box and were waiting for the last out to catch an early car up town. They sat down, however, and even the Sharonites who thought the game was all over, were compelled to crawl out of their sweaters.

Luck was with Newark though and Haval in the ninth hit a safe one. He stole second and took third on Winters' long fly to Sellers. Schlatter dropped a short fly to Sellers which that gentleman picked up with one glove from his shoe tops, and though he threw almost perfectly to the plate, it was a little high and Ulrich had to jump into the air after it and Haval slid into the rubber and the game was over with a score on the right side of the ledger for Newark. OLD SORES OFTEN LEAD TO CANCER

Whenever a sore or ulcer does not heal and shows signs of becoming chronic, it should arouse suspicion, because many of these places lead to cancer. It may appear as an ordinary sore at first, and is given treatment as such, with some simple salve, wash or plaster, with the hope that the place will heal, but the real seat of the trouble is in the blood and cannot be reached by external remedies, and soon the sore will return. After awhile the deadly poison begins to eat into the surrounding flesh and the ulcer spreads rapidly, becoming more offensive and alarming until at last the sufferer finds he is afflicted with cancer. Cancerous ulcers often start from a boil, wart, mole or pimple, which has been bruised or roughly handled, showing that the taint is in the blood, perhaps inherited. Another cause for non-healing ulcers and sores is the remains of some constitutional disease or the effects of a long spell of sickness. S. S. S. goes down to the very root of the trouble and cures so thoroughly that there is never any sign of the trouble in after years. As soon as the system gets under the influence of S. S. S. the place begins to improve, the discharge gradually grows less, the inflammation leaves, the flesh resumes its healthy color, and soon the sore is well, because every vestige of the cause has been removed from the blood. Book on sores and ulcers and medical advice without charge. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

I was suffering greatly from a cancerous ulcer on my left breast, which had begun to eat, and at times would discharge very offensive matter. I knew the trouble was hereditary as an only sister, my mother and two of her sisters died of cancer. I am fully satisfied I would have gone the same way but for S. S. S., which cured me. Bolton, Mo. NEWARK'S STICK WORK VERY BAD

TEAM AVERAGE OF BUT .186 DURING ENTIRE SERIES JUST CLOSED.

Opponents Fatten Averages at Expense of Local Pitchers--Boyd and Reagan Released.

It is very evident to the fans who witnessed the ball games between Newark and Sharon just why we are at the bottom of the league standing. It is also evident to all who have witnessed the playing of the locals during the home series just closed why Newark is just one notch ahead of Sharon. The cause is the same.

In the series just closed Newark has made a poor showing against her opponents. Out of 15 games scheduled, two were postponed on account of rain. Seven games were won by Newark and six games lost. This is a poor record. If there was any time when the local team hoped to regain what they lost under the Bates management, it was in a home series of 13 games.

The team batted but little better than .186 during the entire series. Out of 492 times at bat, Newark scored 75 hits. Out of this number there were scored 48 runs. Their opponents batted at a .263 clip during the series. Out of 464 times at bat, 122 safe hits were scored. It's true, only 48 runs were scored from 122 hits which is only two more than those scored by Newark. However, every team expects to lose the larger part of the games abroad and expects to make up for that loss by winning the most of the home games. Newark hasn't done it.

Where has the batting eye of the Newark bunch been lost? One fan remarked that dating from a recent festivity, the team has been on the decline. The thing to do now is to strengthen the team and commence now and win.

Releases Handed Out.

With a big bunch of men on the pay roll, the management commenced Saturday night to write releases. The greatest surprise was occasioned when it was announced that Boyd and Reagan had been released. Until Haval came, these two men were furnishing the fans with a fast article of ball and both men were hitting as well as some of the older members. Haval went into the game Saturday. He put up a fair article of ball and got two hits. The man until recently has been playing with the Grand Rapids club of the Central League. It is claimed he has a habit of playing a loose game when off the home grounds. He may be able to fill that position and strengthen the team and it is hoped that he will but it does look like either of the two men who were signed for that position, Boyd or Reagan, were giving excellent satisfaction.

Bradley, the right fielder, who came here under the Bates regime, was also let out when the ax fell. Rumors are flying. Since the announcement that Justice had been released it is claimed that he will be signed here and will play third or short and Wratten released. No official confirmation of this report could be obtained. It is also stated that O'Neill will be secured for a regular pitcher but this also lacks confirmation. The reports have been traced to what is considered a reliable source and the fact that Haval was let out for a few days was noted in order to give the management a loophole to escape in case the men were re-signed.

The subject of Schlei's strength and the fact that he was let out has been noted.

Playing Safe.

"Are you afraid of the yellow peril?" "No; my shirt are three sizes too large for my lit'le body."

BECKEL PITCHED FIRST GAME

NEWARK'S WEAK BATTING AGAIN EVIDENT TO THE FANS

Pitcher West Made Local Batters Look Like Amateurs--Only Four Hits Allowed.

In a contest which could hardly be termed a game of baseball, Newark was shut out by the tailenders of the O. P. league at Wehrle park Sunday afternoon, and the big feature of the game was the wonderful stick work of the Molders. Fans seated in the grand stand directly behind the plate amused themselves by calling out the number of inches each player missed the ball when the bat was swung viciously at the sphere. The fans declare that the batters missed the most of the balls pitched by distances varying from eight to eighteen inches. At any rate only four safe bingles were made off West's delivery, and he did not seem to have anything wonderful at that.

The Newark bunch played an errorless game in the field, but their inability to hit made their fielding worthless.

Most of the fans, who were disgusted with the game, amused themselves watching the funny stunts on the field when the players started after batted balls. Drake sat down in the middle of a puddle in center field while running after a Texas leaguer. Schlatter slipped up and fell all over himself while chasing what he thought would be a bunt. Other equally funny events amused the 1200 people who went to the park to see a baseball game, but were disappointed. Score:

Cross-examined by Mr. Fitzgibbon: "I did not file any complaint against Levi Bevard."

WILLIAM ALLEN STEWART.

By Mr. Phil Smythe: "Live four miles north of Newark east of Levi Hollar's; I was at home on the evening Mrs. Wertz was killed; a strange man came to my house about 7 o'clock that night and asked for something to eat; he doubled up his coat and laid it down on the porch and put his hat on top of it. Have never seen him since."

Witness was shown a sketch that appeared in the Newark Advocate of Martin Kelly, who committed suicide in the county jail by cutting his throat with a razor.

MONDAY AFTERNOON.

Henry Bullock was the first witness called Monday afternoon and was examined by Mr. Phil Smythe.

"I live near St. Louisville; last June I saw a man roaming around the orchard in a nude condition; my daughter called my attention to him coming toward the house; I went out and he told me that he had murdered two persons and that there was a reward of $2500 out for him; I gave him some clothes and took him down to Constable Ed. Mooley; afterward saw his clothes which were brought to me; saw some spots on the cap; the coat and vest were blue; the hat black; the clothes were turned over to Sheriff Redman."

Mr. Bullock said the picture of Martin Kelly, published in the Advocate, resembled the man he saw in the orchard.

Cross examined by Mr. T. B. Full-ton.

"When I first saw the man he was standing behind a tree; asked me for some old clothes; we took the clothes up to him; looked like a man 30 or 35 years old; never saw him before; knew nothing about him; my wife knew nothing about him; my wife rot his clothes; I was planting potatoes; my daughter brought his clothes up to me."

MRS. HENRY BULLOCK.

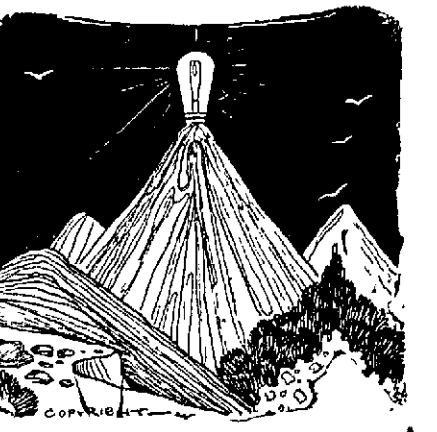

The witness was examined by Mr. Phil B. Smythe:

FUNERAL OF G. C. DAUGHERTY

SERMON PREACHED BY V. REV. B. M. O'BOYLAN SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

Large Numbers of Associates and Friends of Deceased Present to Hear Discourse.

The funeral sermon of Gilbert C. Daugherty, the attorney who died at Magnetic Springs Friday morning, was preached before a large congregation at St. Francis de Sales church Sunday afternoon by V. Rev. B. M. O'Boylan.

The fact that Father O'Boylan and the deceased had some differences of opinion which found expression in heated terms in recent publications in this city caused a special interest to be taken in the sermon that was given at St. Francis de Sales church Sunday. A summary of the discourse is here given.

Father O'Boylan took for his text the last chapter of Ecclesiastes. He began by saying that the answer to seven questions solved every difficulty within the range of science, human and divine. The questions were, who? what? where? by what means? when? how? and when?

To the question, what is man? he called the attention of his audience which he recognized as one that represented the intelligence of the city in the highest degree. He referred to the modern doctrine of evolution and then proceeded to show how untenable and unanswerable some of its principles were. Then he gave a direct answer to the question and dwelt at considerable length on the marvelous growth and endowments of man, viewed both from his corporeal as well as his spiritual nature. The mysteries of his birth, gestation, growth and nutrition. The unquenchable thirst for knowledge was then dwelt on and it was shown by the preacher that this could never be satisfied but by the possession of the infinite Truth; and the desire for happiness, rooted in man's heart, could be satisfied only when it came into possession of the same Treasure—the God of Infinite Love. The why? of man's existence was next considered, and "by what means" he should attain to his end was briefly stated. At this point the speaker addressed himself directly to the members of the legal profession who were present, and next came to the character of him whose remains were before them. Here was a point at which the vast audience, (composed as it was of the representatives of all classes of the community, including many of the leading ministers of the other churches) listened with breathless suspense. But the speaker was equal to the occasion. He took from the leaves of the Bible which lay before him a newspaper clipping from which he read a portion of the beautiful address read some eight years ago by the deceased in that very sanctuary on the occasion of the speaker's return from Europe. Having read the words of praise and kind greeting Father O'Boylan commented on them in fitting words and showed the kind heart and clear mind of him who uttered them. He said that while he and the deceased disagreed in many things, still he admired, the independence of the man and asserted that "the man who made no enemies for himself in this corrupt and deceitful world was not deserving of the name of a man."

In glowing terms he depicted the chaste and honest character of the deceased and having offered his sincere sympathy to the widow and children and relatives, he concluded at this point, "Take now this body to the hill of Calvary cemetery and while you bear it there may its soul, looking from the confines of Heaven over the suns and stars swimming like islands in the ocean of eternity, behold here on this planet, in this congregation and in this particular assembly, all hearts united in one wish and that is that it may be blessed with the Beatific Vision of its Creator to enjoy His presence and be at rest with Him forever!" Following the sermon the choir continued the solemn chant in the office for the dead and the Benediction was sung while the congregation passed through the aisles and the casket was being borne to the hearse. The sermon of Father O'Boylan won the hearts and merited the praise of everybody. It was both a Christian and manly tribute to one whom in life he regarded as a rival, but whom he proved to be worthy of his steel, and no friend could have shown greater love and respect for the deceased than was shown by the pastor of St. Francis de Sales over the body of Mr. Daugherty.

IN HIS STALL

Sydney, the Famous Colt, Suddenly Expires.

New York, June 18.—James R. Keene's famous four-year-old colt Sydney, conceded last year to be the best horse in training in America, died in his stall at the Sheepshead Bay race track of blood poisoning. The horse had been ill for a long time with a skin disease. His ailment had necessitated his withdrawal from all of this year's big stakes, including the Brooklyn, Suburban and Brighton handicaps. In all of which he was the future book favorite. Sydney's death was sudden and occurred, strangely enough, while Mr. Keene was making his daily visit to his Sheepshead Bay stable. The horse dropped dead while Mr. Keene stood beside him. As a two-year-old Mr. Keene was offered and refused $100,000 for his colt, whose only defeat in his racing career was in the Futurity of 1904.

Flyer Wrecked.

Buffalo, June 18.—The Twentieth Century flyer on the Lake Shore was wrecked near West Seneca, two miles west of here. The wreck was a bad one and it is considered miraculous that no one was killed. One day coach and five sleepers were badly smashed. The wreck, it is believed, was caused by a split rail. There were 6 passengers on the train. All were badly shaken up and a few slightly bruised, but not one received injuries that necessitated the immediate attention of a physician.

A new book, by ex-President Grover Cleveland, is announced. It will be entitled "Fishing and Shooting Stories," and will treat of his experiences with rod and gun.

ROUND HOUSE ROOF COLLAPSES

PEARL HARTER, CARPENTER, IS BADLY INJURED BY FALLING DEBRIS.

Thigh and Arm Broken and Scalp Badly Cut—Second Accident in Few Days.

At 8 o'clock Monday morning about one-third of the roof of the B and O round house, which is being rebuilt, collapsed and Pearl Harter, a carpenter, employed upon the building, was caught and fell with the debris, sustaining a multiple fracture of the left thigh, a broken arm and a severe scalp wound which required ten stitches.

Fortunately no one else was injured in the collapsing building, although another carpenter, named Lashford, was working with Mr. Harter at the time but managed to escape.

Bowers & Ciss, Bros' ambulance made a hurry run to the shops and Mr. Harter was brought at once to the Newark Sanitarium where Dr. B. F. Barnes attended. While quite serious and painful, it is believed that his injuries are not of such a nature as to be fatal.

The injured man is now 42 years and has been in this city for the past two years boarding at the Columbus hotel. He is unmarried, but has wife and children living in Zanesville. Mr. Harter was accompanied to the Sanitarium by a fellow workman named Joseph Smith, who assisted in carrying him to the place.

This is the second accident that has occurred at the round house in the past few days. Charles Duke fell last week and received injuries which resulted in his death.

CANAL BILL IS UP TO SENATE

SECRETARY TAFT
ON PANAMA CANAL

Washington, June 18.—In preparation for the vote on the sea-level Panama canal bill, which is fixed for next Thursday, the senate will devote much of the time this week prior to that date to the consideration of the bill. Senator Knox is scheduled for a speech in support of a lock canal, and he will be followed by other senators for and against the bill as it stands. The adoption of a provision in the sundry civil appropriation bill by the house in opposition to the sea-level type of canal has had the effect of stimulating interest in the senate, and it is probable that this provision will itself be made the subject of discussion. The senate agreement calls for a final vote on the bill before adjournment on Thursday and for beginning the vote on the amendments at 3 o'clock on that day.

EDW. KIBLER, PRESIDENT OF OHIO STATE BAR ASS'N.
RECEIVES LETTER.

Secretary of War Will Touch Upon the International Phases of the Secretary of War William H. Taft has written to Hon. Edward Kibler, president of the Ohio State Bar Association, saying that at the meeting of the association at Put-in-Bay, where he promised to make an address that he would likely talk about the Panama canal.

The secretary said he had been very busy and had not had time to consider the matter of his subject; that he expected to be busy, and would therefore speak on a topic with which he was familiar. It is expected he will touch upon the international phases of the canal question, which will after all, give it a legal tinge, although the topic is not, strictly speaking, a legal one.

LOSS OF MAIL
AT SAN FRANCISCO

Washington, June 18.—Postmaster General Cortelyou received final reports from the postmaster at San Francisco detailing the conditions during the great disaster and pointing out that the amount of mail lost was comparatively small. The postmaster reports that on May 24 the records of the canceling machines at the San Francisco postoffice showed collections of mail within 60,000 letters of the heaviest collections of record in the office, while the stamp rates were within $200 of normal. The postmaster says, however, that the mailings of second-class matter were but a little over 20 per cent of the amount before the earthquake. He adds that there has been no falling off in the amount of registered mail received. There were 240 employees of the postoffice whose homes were burned out, many of the men being left destitute, but so far as known only one employee, a carrier, lost his life, while one other is missing.

President Castro will resume the presidency of Venezuela July 5.

Next in value was the turquoise output, valued at $65,000. The importation of precious stones amounted to $34,898,510 as compared with $26,098,813 in 1904. Diamonds represent the bulk of the importations, the rough or uncut stones being valued at $19,251,111, while the value of the unset stones is placed at $20,275,304.
